AKRON FACTORY IS FLOODED

Lighting Plant at Canton Put Out of Commission by Lightning and Church at Navarre Nearly Destroyed — Twenty-five Wayne County Bridges Washed Out and Railway Traffic Interrupted—Crops in Coshocton County Suffer $20,000 Loss.

Columbus, O., Sept. 16.—Great damage to crops and other property was done by rain, which fell in torrents throughout Ohio, as well as through most of the Ohio valley and lake region. The storm resulted in destruction of bridges, the washing out of roads and delay of trains and in some instances necessitated the removal of imperiled families in boats from their homes. There also was much damage by lightning.

At Akron the combination of rain and inadequate sewerage did $12,000 damage to a large factory, caused it to be closed down and threw 200 men out of employment. Many business blocks were flooded.

Many Bridges Destroyed. Wooster, where 4.12 inches of rain fell, reported 25 county bridges washed away or destroyed and train service on the Baltimore & Ohio abandoned by the washing out of two bridges. Many fields of corn were destroyed.

Lightning knocked out the electric lighting system at Canton and low portions of the city were flooded by 2.63 inches of rain, the heaviest precipitation in 15 years.

Telegraph, telephone and streetcar service were knocked out by lightning at Massillon, several buildings were struck and streets were washed out by rain. A church was nearly destroyed by lightning at Navarre.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Postmaster General Hitchcock has arranged to co-operate with the managers of the international aviation meet to be held at Nassau Boulevard, Long Island, from Sept. 23 to Oct. 1, in carrying of mail by aeroplanes. It is expected that a postal route between the field and some outlying branch of the Brooklyn postoffice will be established. This is the first case in which the carrying of mail by aeroplanes was officially authorized by any government.

Wrapped in Arms of Morpheus. Bellefontaine, O., Sept. 16.—Efforts to arouse Harry Remphill, 22, of Belle Center, who has been asleep for 100 hours, have proved fruitless, and the physicians who have been working over the man admitted that the case is baffling.

Judge Minturn Is Dead. Gallipolis, O., Sept. 16.—Former Probate Judge William T. Minturn, 74, well known throughout the state, died here. He was a prominent Mason and the only Democrat ever elected to a county office in Gallia county.

Lion Claws Little Girl. Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Laura Burns 7, of Morrisville, N. Y., was fatally hurt by a lion at the state fair here. The lion reached its paw through the bars of the cage, caught the child and pulled her to the bars.

Premier Has a Chance

Kiev, Sept. 16.—Present indications are that M. Stolypin will recover. The prisoner, Bogroff, has persistently refused to answer the questions put to him by the police, though he coolly admits that he is an anarchist and says that he was deputized by his colleagues in St. Petersburg to kill the prime minister. It is said that he has undergone 15 terms of imprisonment for political offenses.

Chile Feels Shock. Iquique, Chile, Sept. 16.—An earthquake was felt here. The walls of many buildings were cracked and several persons were injured.

Beverly, Sept. 16.—President Taft has rendered his decision in the controversy between Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, government chemist, and the personnel board of the department of agriculture. The decision is all on the side of the food expert. In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson, the president declares that Dr. Wiley was justified in all that he did in the matter of the employment of Dr. H. H. Rusby as an expert chemist; that he was no party to the correspondence involved in the case; that Dr. Wiley acted in accordance with numerous precedents, and that he can not but command the sympathy of everyone for his earnest effort to maintain the Spring Lake, N. J., Sept. 16.—When the committee named by the house of governors appears before the supreme court of the United States to appeal for the overthrow of the dictum that a state legislature may not regulate intrastate railroad fares, Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio will argue the case, his selection by the governors' conference as the champion of states' rights being practically unanimous.

Before the fourth annual conference adjourned to meet in Richmond, Va., on Dec. 3, 1912, the states rights committee, after a short session, issued a statement defining their attitude and that of the house of governors on the action taken. Judge Harmon and Governor Hadley of Missouri prepared the statement, which Tarrytown, N. Y., Sept. 16.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., escaped death by inches, one man will die and four others were terribly injured in an accident which occurred on Mr. Rockefeller's father's house. Young Rockefeller was visibly affected, but he hastened to give first aid to the men while he dispatched others to get doctors and nurses to the Rockefeller estate with all possible speed. The garage in the stable was turned into a temporary hospital, and it was there that three doctors and five nurses worked to save the lives of the injured men, with Rockefeller, Jr., superintending everything.

Mr. Rockefeller after lunch went up to the hill to see how the addition of 10 rooms to his father's house was progressing. The roof of the house has been torn off and it is being shoved up into the air to add 10 bedrooms. Mr. Rockefeller, watching the work, had just passed around to the west side of the building as some men were hoisting a bundle of steel up to the roof. The derrick, which is located on the roof, had raised the steel to the second story when one end caught on the cornice. The tie rope broke and the steel tipped up in the air on end and slipped through the noose. Mr. Rockefeller saw what happened and instantly realized the danger. He yelled "Jump for your lives, men!" and then sprang back as the bundle of steel came crashing to the ground.

A large number of Italian laborers were at work on the ground helping some stonemasons. They didn't realize the danger and failed to grasp Mr. Rockefeller's warning, the bundle of steel broke and the beams scattered, and as they struck the ground they mowed the men down.

Solidified Gasoline May Soon Revolutionize Motor Traction

SOLIDIFIED gasoline as a substitute for liquid gasoline is commanding the attention of London experts. The accompanying illustration shows one of the jellylike blocks suspended on a fork. It is claimed that the solidified gasoline is more convenient for automobiles than liquid gasoline. The manufacture is explained thus: The gasoline is mixed with a small amount of stearin which has first been treated with hydrochloric acid. To this is added a mixture of methylated alcohol which has first been treated with sodium hydrate. The two liquids unite with considerable energy, and after the addition of water the gelatinous mass results. It is claimed that the gasoline so treated is far safer to handle than in the liquid condition, and no doubt this is so, for as jelly the activities of the gasoline seem to a certain extent to be suspended. Thrown into the fire, the jelly burns little more fiercely than candle grease. After exposure for three and one-fourth hours in a laboratory the loss by evaporation was given as about 44 per cent, but one would think that this rate is more than sufficient to be dangerous.

Famine Threatens City

Chinese Rioters Have Chengtu Completely Surrounded. London, Sept. 16.—The British minister at Peking cables the foreign office that he has received a telegram from the consul at Chungking stating that the latter has been informed by the taotai that the situation at Chengtu is critical. The city is surrounded by thousands of rioters and fighting is going on. The rebels hold the roads leading to the city and rioting within the walls is feared because of the shutting off of the food supply. The missionaries in the outlying districts of the province of Sze Chuan have been ordered to proceed to the nearest place of safety.

Claims Self-Defense. Hamilton, O., Sept. 16.—Charles Schulteis, 26, held by the police with Chris Dilli, 40, was formally charged with murder after the police say, he confessed to having shot and killed Joseph Hardesty, 50, in a melon patch. In his alleged confession Schulteis exonerates Dilli of participation in the crime. Schulteis says he attacked and shot Hardesty with a shotgun in defense of his aged father, Emil Schulteis. He charges Hardesty had knocked his father down and was threatening to kill him.

Pueblo Fireman Pounds Oklahoma Giant Around Ring at Will, While Latter Makes Feeble Effort at Retaliation—Takes Punishment Like Stoic and Emerges From Fight With Nose Broken, Both Eyes Closed and Head Big as Pumpkin.

New York, Sept. 16.—Jack Johnson will continue as the world's champion heavyweight pugilist as far as Carl Morris, the "Oklahoma Giant," is concerned, who has ceased to be the "white man's hope."

Morris, in Madison Square Garden, received a terrific beating in 10 rounds from Fireman Jim Flynn of Pueblo, Colo., and had it not been for Morris' wonderful pluck there is no doubt that he would have been put to sleep. Although Morris was nearly six inches taller and weighed 50 pounds more, he was practically slaughtered. Both of his eyes were closed, his nose was broken, his lips were slashed and he received so many blows on the right side of the head that it swelled to the size of a small pumpkin.

Respite For Diegel

Stay of Execution Is Granted by Circuit Court.

Dayton, O., Sept. 16.—Judge Allread of the circuit court, sitting in chambers, extended the stay of execution of sentence in the case of Rodney J. Diegel until such a time as the three judges of the circuit court set a date for a hearing on the appeal. The circuit court will meet in Columbus Sept. 25, and it is expected that a further stay of execution will be granted Sept. 18.

The effect of Judge Allread's action is to keep Diegel out of the penitentiary between Sept. 18 and 25. The stay of execution granted by Judge Kinkead at the time he sentenced Diegel to three years in the pen expires Sept. 18.

At the same time Judge Allread refused the request of the state that Diegel's bond be made larger than $10,000, the present figure.

Fatality at Pittsburg. Pittsburg, Sept. 16.—Property loss approximating $500,000 as done when the streets of Etna, Millvale, Sharpsburg, Turtle Creek and other suburban towns were transformed into raging torrents by a cloudburst. One life was lost.

CANDIDATES FILE ACCOUNTS COSTS BUT LITTLE TO RUN FOR OFFICE OF CAMPAIGNING EXPENSES

The law requiring all candidates to certify to the Board of Elections a statement of their campaign expenses, has brought in reports from practically every candidate who took part in the recent primary.

The law requires that such statement of receipts and expenditures shall be filed with the clerk of the Board of Elections within ten days after the election. The time limit was up Friday, and Clerk Gregg now has a great stack of statements, nearly all of which report nothing received and nothing disbursed.

A feature of the new law is that candidates who do not have a single cent of expense, as well as those who have, must file a statement to that effect, and if a candidate fails to file his expense statement, he is barred from entering upon the term of office, or being placed upon the ticket in the general election in November.

A statement of the expenses of the city official nominees shows the following amounts: Mayor, Harve W. Smith, $29.85; T. P. Sites, $2; Auditor, Glenn M. Pine, $18.85; Wm. Bradfute, $5.50. All candidates for council, city treasurer, township clerk and Union township trustees gave statements of no expenditures, with the exception of J. Edmund Smith, for trustee, who paid $2 for announcements.

Down in Ross county the greatest expenditure was made by Democratic candidate for mayor of Chillicothe, whose expense bill ran up to $22.50.

Colored Lads Desert Motorcycle

Two colored boys, identity unknown, stopped at a residence near Frankfort Thursday afternoon and asked the people who lived at the place if they wanted an Indian motorcycle, but the gift was refused.

The boys then pushed the cycle down the road a short distance, left it standing against the fence, and disappeared. The sheriff of Ross county was notified and made a search for the two boys, who are supposed to have stolen the motorcycle, but no trace of them could be found. The cycle was taken charge of by the sheriff.

Buckeye Lake Management Offered John W. Vogel

John W. Vogel, of Vogel's Minstrels fame, has been offered the management of Buckeye Lake for a series of years, taking the place of a Mr. Harris, who has had charge of the resort for several years, and who has been at sword points with the Traction officials and others for some time it is said, causing the place to deteriorate to a noticeable degree.

Buckeye Lake is conceded to be one of the best inland resorts in America, and if Mr. Vogel takes charge, which it is believed he will, it will quickly become very much more popular than at present, as he proposes to add many fine attractions to the place.

Morris Gets a Trouncing

Novice at Self-Defense

From the moment the men put up their hands it was clear that Morris knew nothing of the art of self-defense. He was just a big, strong, willing fellow who thought he could beat his rival with superior weight and harder punches. But when Flynn began rushing him, at the same time punching his body with short hooks and uppercuts in the face with heavy drives, Morris lost his bearings and presented a sorry spectacle. He received smashes in the face that fairly blinded him and swings on the jaw that rocked him to the heels, yet Flynn, trying his best, could not score a knockout.

Morris' blows soon became weak and ineffective. He punched Flynn whenever he had the chance, but the necessary steam was lacking and, barring a swollen left optic, the Pueblo man escaped without serious bruises.

DANCING BARRED IN NEW BUILDING

GET SHOCK FROM TRUSTEE

The following pitiful tale of woe was sent out by a Bookwalter correspondent who gnashes his teeth over the "no dancing" decree which has been tacked up as one of the rules regarding the new $2000 township hall just completed in that little village:

"The young people of this town and vicinity have been very keenly disappointed in the closing of the new township hall against dancing, as the old hall has always been barred against dancing, but all kinds of dog and horse shows were permitted to occupy the hall at any and all times. On one occasion a horse was ascended to the stage on the upper floor and was raffled off by a game of chance, and on another occasion a show that consisted of seven dogs was permitted to remain on the stage for a whole week for the pitiful sum of $5.00, and when the dogs descended from their lofty nest, it was necessary to employ a colored gentleman to take a hoe and shovel, and remove the dirt and filth from the stage, where the entertainers had bunked. Yet they would not permit a civil dance at any price, a year ago. When it came to a vote, whether or not we should build a new hall, the public was left under the impression that the new hall would be kept open for all kinds of amusement and dancing, but now that the building is completed, our popular local trustee has bolted the doors and says there shall be no dancing in the new structure. So we must be content to go to our neighboring towns for amusement and leave our beautiful new hall dark and silent."

The correspondent, all unconsciously perhaps, treads on a very ticklish subject in the Bookwalter precinct of Upper Paint township, where a great many of the voters are known to be bitterly opposed to public dances, and if dancing had been commenced in the new township hall (the old hall did not belong to the township) a volcano might have broken loose in Paint township.

Enoch Jeffries Dead At Sedalia

Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock Enoch Jeffries, aged 67, died at the home of his brother, James Jeffries, of Sedalia, after several months' suffering from stomach trouble. The deceased was an ex-soldier, and a life-long resident of the Sedalia neighborhood, where he was known to everyone.

He was never married. One brother and two sisters survive him, the latter, Mrs. John N. Ford and Mrs. John Counts, both living at Sedalia.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 10:30, followed by interment in the Sedalia cemetery.

Continued Rains Damage Corn Crop

The continued rains threaten no little damage to the corn crop, or rather to that part of it which has been cut a little green and placed in the shock.

Complaints have been made by farmers from all over the county who fear that the wet weather has already been too much for some of the corn, and it is moulding in the shock. Some of the corn which has not been cut, was badly twisted up by the recent storms.

Penniless Youth Seeks His Fortune

Wednesday evening's train had on it a fifteen-year-old boy going out to conquer the world, says the Green County Journal.

He interested the passengers so much that he was provided with means to tide him over for a time. But these he refused till pressed to accept them. He had lost his parents and had been working for a farmer near Mt. Sterling, who treated him harshly, and he reasoned that somewhere in the world there was somebody he could serve who was better than that farmer. He had an honest face, large blue eyes and was frank in speech. John Robinson, who lives south of town, was on the train, and contributed aid. A Dayton man paid his fare to Dayton from Washington C. ## THIRD WIFE GETS DIVORCE CHECKERED CAREER OF BIGAMIST REEVES REEVES STILL AN OUTCAST

Another chapter has been written in the checkered career of bigamist Roy Franklin Reeves, the young scamp, who some three years ago, married Miss Virgie Benner, a prominent young school teacher of the Bainbridge neighborhood, while his second wife (nee Lilly McLain), was living in this city, and which resulted in the arrest of Reeves for bigamy.

Reeves' third wife (Miss Virgie Benner) has just been awarded a divorce in Ross county, on a charge of bigamy, neglect and cruelty. Mrs. Reeves, or Miss Benner, at first did not believe Reeves guilty, she claimed, but was convinced of the fact after living with him for several months.

Reeves had a weakness for marrying and breaking hearts, although what his peculiar attractions were is a hard matter to decide, as he was a very homely looking young man in his twenties. On July 30, 1906, he married Miss Lilly McLain, daughter of Philip McLain of this city, the marriage taking place at Rossville, Georgia.

Previous to this Reeves had married Miss Bertha Summers, of Bainbridge, but treated her in such a bad manner that she soon brought suit for divorce, and got it. His second wife claimed that Reeves grossly mistreated her, and after one year in Chattanooga, Tenn., they moved to Dayton, soon after which she came home to her parents. Reeves soon followed his wife here, but left for Bainbridge, and the next known had married Miss Benner.

When he was arrested and bound over to the grand jury under $500 bond, his new father-in-law rendered assistance in securing the bond, and later when Reeves deserted his third wife, was forced to pay the bond.

Reeves enticed his third wife to where he was in hiding and they lived together for about one year. Two children were born to them. Several months ago Mrs. Reeves, the third, left the scoundrel and sued him for divorce, with the result as above mentioned. Reeves is still in hiding.

Shameful Proceedings Disgrace to Greenfield

A few nights ago a man and his wife living in Paint township, Ross county, went to Greenfield, leaving their small children at home, and about midnight the marshal of Greenfield discovered a buggy standing near the mill race, and upon making an investigation found the Paint township woman in the buggy embraced in the arms of a burly negro, while the woman's husband stood nearby.

The pair were arrested and taken before the mayor, who was called out of bed about two o'clock, and each received a fine of $15 and costs on a charge of disorderly conduct. Friends of the negro paid his fine, and the woman was locked up until the following day, when the dutiful husband paid the fine of his loving wife, and took her home with him.

Trains Delayed By Many Washouts

West-bound paper train on the B. & O., No. 105, due here at 5:02 in the morning, was three hours and fifteen minutes late Saturday morning because of a washout on the road east of Columbus.

A washout at Cove Station on the D. T. & I. tied up all traffic over the road at that point, and No. 105 could not get over the road as late as Saturday afternoon. Much delay and consequent damage resulted from the washout.

INDEPENDENT TICKET FOR BLOOMINGBURG.

Not satisfied with the result of the election in Bloomingburg, an independent ticket is to be placed in the field against Wade O. Creath, nominee for mayor, and George Gordon, nominee for marshal, together with other officials, it is said.

The report is that Thomas Yore will be the independent candidate for Mayor, and H. E. Roseboom, candidate for marshal. Just who will be selected to fill up the ticket is not known.

A hard fight resulted in the primary, and mayoralty nominee Creath beat his opponent, Theo. Allen by just one vote, while Gordon beat Hal Worrel, the present marshal, by 19 votes. One man from Bloomingburg expressed the opinion that the dry citizens would be back of some of the independent ticket candidates.

SPARE THE TREES.

"Woodman spare that tree!" It's the cry of every beauty lover as well as the poet.

Our city's building and growth is trumpeted as proof of the "Greater Washington" that is to be. What of the lack of civic pride and artistic appreciation that permits the chopping down of fine old trees, whose huge gnarled trunks and spreading branches mark mile stones in the town's history and proclaim the existence of our grandfathers?

Why mar the beauty of our city by tearing down in one day what is the output of half a century's sturdy growth and cannot be obtained at any price in the newly built town, with no decades of past history to her credit.

Instead of being the prey of the ax, trees ought to be tended with at least the same care given the family cat.

People all over the country are waking to the fact that trees play a big part in marking the line between an uncouth village and an ignorant class of citizens, and a beautiful town, with residents refined and educated.

Everywhere the "Davey" system of doctoring trees is being introduced and the utmost care given to their preservation. The unwise "topping" of the tree, by which its life is cut short, is also understood and people are trimming trees into graceful shape instead of cutting out their heart.

Civic beauty is today a cult. Look at Kansas City! But a short time ago a hideous, bare factory town. Today one of the most beautiful cities of the United States, with its marvelous parks, magnificent boulevards and trees becoming thickly luxuriant.

Washington C. H. may not have its parks, but it has many beautiful trees, and they ought to be protected at all costs. Other cities have had streets graded to preserve the trees. Other cities have had concrete pavements laid without cutting down the trees.

Many of our citizens have never ceased to regret the mutilation of Court street, when her grand old avenue of trees, lending to Washington the dignity of an old, historic town, were hacked down. For years Court street sizzled in the sun, spoiled as to its beauty and its comfort, and is only now beginning to get back into its earlier class.

Our neighboring city of Hillsboro has us beaten to a finish in the line of natural beauty. To cut down one of the old trees which flourishes there would be a crime, for which it would be hard to find sufficient penalty.

The past year has marked great progress in Washington's buildings and improved conditions, but there is one side of our city's development that is neglected. That is the fostering of a civic pride that demands regard for the beautiful and the artistic as well as the material.

With the expenditure of systematic effort, and time, even without much expense, our town could be made infinitely prettier than now.

Let the trees stand no matter how difficult the grading or pavement problem. Narrow the sidewalk and widen the grass plots on the sides, keep them well and the result in a few years will be beautiful streets that will be their own reward.

Don't let other towns, without half of Washington's business hustle and progressiveness, double discount us in beauty.

THE TARIFF FIGHT.

Without doubt the tariff fight at the special session of Congress was intensely bitter while it lasted, but now that the smoke has cleared away one is compelled to smile at the contest made by the Italian importers in New York for the removal of the duty on lemons. This was really the one humorous incident in the tariff campaign. Nothing funnier could be imagined unless Dr. Cook had appeared to ask that gum drops be put on the free list.

The growers in Italy and Sicily, be it understood, are protected by the government, which does not levy an import tax, it is true, because no lemons are imported into Italy; but it does give a substantial bounty to encourage the business, and the entire Italian nation, whether consuming lemons or not, helps to pay it. In this country we import half of the lemons we use, and we place an import tax on those coming from abroad. This has encouraged production in this country and has resulted in putting a curb on the rapacity of the importers, who formerly manipulated the market to their entire satisfaction. But listen to the plea of the importers, speaking in disguise from beneath the mantle of the "consumer," namely, the retailers and push-cart men dominated by the importers in Little Italy on the East Side of New York. They ask for free lemons in behalf of the seik! In fact, not one hospital in the country made a plea for free lemons. With lemons, under the force of home competition, selling lower than any other fruit in the market—lower even than potatoes—what an absurd plea. Rather was it not the boulevardiers, the bartenders, the idle loungers in the clubs, who really pleaded for free lemons to make their cocktails, their gin fizzes, their mineral water "lemon squashes," and the other concoctions of the mixologist? Why not be honest about it, and if these are the real sufferers from the fancied burden of the lemon tariff, why not help them out with a few free lemons direct from the lemon groves? But would one destroy a great and growing industry on the simple pleas put forth by the importing interests?

Five Panhandle passenger trains were held at Uhrichsville because of a bridge washed out just west of there. The damage in this county is estimated at $20,000 and it is still gaining heavily.

DYE IT.

There is many a garment tucked away in closet or garret that could be made as good as new by coloring. Modern package dyes are so easy to use and give such perfect results that it is often expensive economy not to use them.

Dyeing requires but little time, requires no skill at all, and gives faded fabrics a new lease of life.

POETRY FOR TODAY

MISUNDERSTOOD.

A mosquito sat upon a tree
As sad as sad could be.
"Alas!" he sighed, "I love mankind,
But not a soul loves me."

"In vain I try with gentle wiles
To show my strong affection,
But though I warm attachments make,
I shyly shun detection."

"In plainest clothes my form I deck
And seek the shady bowers
And reedy pools where man would rest—
On him I rest for hours."

"And from my treasured store of germs
I mete him out a portion,
Fever and chills or plain typhoid,
Whichever suits my notion."

"I'm democratic in my tastes,
Impartial in my favors;
To make my unseen presence felt
I fill the air with quavers."

"Oft in the still night the hours
Are merry with my singing;
The blood leaps quickly through the veins
In answer to my stinging."

"But stern rebuff and proffered blow
Call forth no rude resentment.
I turn and seek the other cheek,
With Christian-like contentment."

"'Tis all in vain—my lot is hard,
My heart is filled with grieving—
Though I love man, his hate for me
Is almost past believing."

Robber Captured

Young Telegraph Operator Summons Police by Wire.

Chicago Junction, O., Sept. 16.—Telegraph Operator Hill discovered robbers looting the Baltimore & Ohio depot at Nova, O. On account of wires being down and unable to call for assistance, he endeavored to capture them single-handed. Taking his revolver he ordered them to throw up their hands, and one responded, the others escaping.

As soon as he could get telegraph connections he wired for officers, stating that he had his man covered. Police Officer Gross of Chicago Junction went there and placed the robber under arrest. The robber gave his name as Harry Platt of Bellaire, O., age 25. Operator Hill is only 20 years old.

Sentence Revoked

Mt. Vernon Murderer Skips and Judge Changes Mind.

Mt. Vernon, O., Sept. 16.—Judge E. M. Wickham revoked suspension of the sentence of 10 years in the penitentiary against Michael T. Lee, who was convicted of the murder of Charles E. Metcalf. He then fixed Lee's term at three years and Lee will be taken to the penitentiary today, if found. Lee, however, has not been in Mt. Vernon for a week, and is believed to have fled. Because he was not in court, Judge Wickham ordered the forfeiture of his bond of $10,000.

The action of the judge came as a result of the complaint against Lee filed by the county prosecutor, who said Lee, instead of returning to his wife and family, as he had promised, was leading a vicious life.

Probst May Get Job.

Mt. Vernon, O., Sept. 16.—On account of ill health Dr. Clayton B. Conwell of Cincinnati has resigned as superintendent of the Ohio state sanatorium for the cure and prevention of tuberculosis. The resignation takes effect Sept. 17. It is rumored that Dr. Probst, late secretary of the state board of health, will succeed Dr. Conwell.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Q.—If all those who have died in the past were to be resurrected and placed on this earth would there be room enough for them all, or would there be so many that they would be piled one on top of the other miles high? And if the latter is true, would not this disprove the Bible teaching that man is to be resurrected and live on this earth?

Answer.—Inasmuch as the Bible does teach a resurrection or awakening of the entire world of mankind at the time of the return of our Lord Jesus Christ, for we read, "All who are in their graves shall come forth at the voice of the Son of Man" (John v, 28, 29), and that the earth is to be man's everlasting habitation (Ecclesiastes i, 4; Isaiah xlv, 18) we must necessarily expect that God would in His Divine arrangements make abundant provisions for all. According to the Bible Chronology, the race has been in existence about six thousand years, to be exact, 6039 years. A very liberal estimate of the number of people who have come into existence in that time is twenty-two billion, and this figure is probably double the actual number. The land area of the world is 54,807,420 square miles. The state of Texas alone, as a vast burial ground, could easily, allowing ten square feet for each one, hold more than ten times the number of people who have ever existed. When all the earth has become as the garden of Eden (Isaiah xxxv) we have no reason to doubt but that all will be amply provided for, with plenty of space in which to move about. Then "They shall sit ever man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid" (Micah iv, 4).

IN THE SPORTING WORLD

SPORT LETTER

Cincinnati, Sept. 16, 1911.

The wise men of base ball now declare that the race for the National League flag has narrowed down to two clubs—the New Yorks and the Chicagoans—and that nothing short of a miracle can put the Pittsburghs back in the running. This means that either the Giants or the Cubs will do battle with the Philadelphia Athletics for the world's championship next month, as it is certain that Connie Mack's team will land the flag in the American league. If the Pirates really are out of the running, much credit must be given the Cincinnati team for bringing about this condition, for in their present splendid form the locals are dangerous to all their opponents, this being demonstrated by their four victories in seven recent games played with the Pirates. These defeats were the last straw to drown the Pirate hopes, for if the games had gone the other way Clarke's men would be right up with the leaders. The Reds also tried to do a little razing with the Cubs, but were not so successful as they were with the Pittsburghs. Perhaps when the New Yorks come they will get busy again and do some more chloroforming of pennant hopes.

That extremely faint hope of finishing in the first division has not entirely deserted the Reds, and they will attempt to climb closer to the coveted goal during the next few days, when they have the Phillies as their guests. The Sleepyhead brigade has not been going so well of late, and Manager Griffith feels that with a little exertion his crew can take a majority of the games to be played with Doolin's men during this final joust. Particular interest is being manifested in the double-header on Sunday, when Manager Griffith will use several of his new men, and at the same time will endeavor to hand the local rooters a pair of victories. The Phillies promise to send in their strongest line-up for both games of this double-header, and some extremely lively sport may be looked for. On the following Sunday, September 24, the New Yorks will play their last Sabbath engagement of the season on the local lot.

When the Reds open the season of 1912, they will be surrounded by a new amphitheatre that will be as magnificent and convenient as any base ball park in the country. While the seating capacity will not be quite as great as that of several of the present big league parks, it will be sufficient for all practical purposes, accommodating about 25,000 people, with standing room for many thousands more. Work on the new stands has already been begun, ground being broken on the rear of the property recently acquired by the club, this work not interfering in any way with the present playing field at this time. When the new field is completed it will be possible to bat out home runs in any direction without knocking the ball over the fence—a condition that exists on no other ground in the country. The cost of the improvement will be about $250,000.

Great interest is being manifested at present in the cross-country flight of Aviator Fowler, who left San Francisco on Monday, in a Wright biplane in an effort to fly to New York. Aside from the flight over the Sierra Nevada mountains the flight offers no particular hardships, the daily flights being comparatively short. Fowler will be followed across the continent by a special train carrying his mechanics, extra parts for his aeroplane and other first aids to the crippled. It is expected that he will make the trip in 26 days. A new long distance record will thereby be established—and that's all.

Another race track has been relegated to the cemetery of blasted turf hopes. A few days ago the Grosse Pointe track, near Detroit, was sold at auction, and the land on which it stood will be converted into building lots. This has been the fate of half a dozen prominent tracks within the past two years, and others are doomed to follow. However, these tracks that do survive, promise to be more prosperous than ever this fall and in the spring for the reason that the abandoning of so many race courses compels the concentrating of the sports on the tracks still in existence.

BEWARE OF SPURIOUS CATALPA STOCK.

The catalpa speciosa seed crop during the spring of 1910 was almost completely destroyed by late frosts. Very few trees of this species throughout Ohio bore seed, and reports from the sections of Indiana, Illinois and Missouri where these trees are native indicate that the crop there also is very limited. In consequence one-year-old seedlings of the tree will be difficult to obtain next spring.

Unscrupulous individuals purporting to represent reliable nursery firms, or those representing firms of unknown or unstable reputation, have in the past canvassed the state, distributing stock of the spurious or common catalpa, unfit for commercial use, at exorbitant prices. The investigations of the Ohio Experiment Station indicate that a great percentage of catalpa stock distributed in the past has been spurious, and on account of the shortage in seed last year, this practice may be expected to assume much greater proportions.

The common catalpa (bignonioides) bears seed much more prolifically than the commercial speciosa, and the crop of the former was good last year, making this species easy to obtain and substitute for the speciosa.

Prospective planters next spring certainly need every assurance possible before being justified in purchasing seed or trees of the 1910 seed crop.

Governors Carry Fight

reads: "In view of an apparent misunderstanding by some of the action of the conference, it is deemed advisable that a statement should be made as to its nature and purposes.

Other Cases Involved.

"As the governing body of the United States circuit court in what are known as the Minnesota rate cases, to the effect that the state of Minnesota had no authority to regulate railroad rates within its own borders because interstate commerce was thereby affected, as other cases involving the same question in other states would come before the supreme court of the United States for decision, the conference considered it advisable that a committee should be appointed to see that the states' side of this controversy is properly prepared and presented to the supreme court. The committee expects to deal only with the legal side of this controversy, and the action taken was one of only ordinary precaution.

"Every state in the Union is vitally interested in the decision of this question, as the right of each state to regulate its own internal commerce would be destroyed by an adverse decision. We expect to ascertain as to what cases will first be considered by the supreme court in which this question will be decided, and if it is deemed advisable we will ask leave to present to the court a brief in argument in support of the right of the states to regulate commerce wholly within their borders."

Both Governor Harmon and Governor Hadley said after the statement came out that there was no question but that the action taken by the governors' conference was the most important step that had been taken in many years toward the preservation of state sovereignty.

Left Fortunes Untouched

New Westminster, B. C., Sept. 16.—The biggest "haul" in the history of modern bank robberies was made here when three masked cracksmen blew the safe of the Bank of Montreal and escaped with $315,000 in gold and bills. Besides this sum they left $100,000 in gold in the safe and on a couch in the banking room because it was too heavy for them to carry.

A Chinese porter went to the bank to scrub shortly after 5 o'clock. He found the robbers at work on the safe. They seized the intruder, bound and gagged him, tied him to a chair and proceeded with their work. As soon as he could get free from his bonds the Chinaman gave the alarm and several posses took up the pursuit of the bandits.

The men were evidently expert cracksmen and the job was neatly done. The bank officials think they must have had some "pal" in New Westminster who advised them of the presence of such a large sum in the safe.

AN ATTRACTIVE BUNGALOW.

Design 876, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

It would be difficult to find a more attractive design for a bungalow than the one here shown. This home, with all rooms on one floor, has a small cellar beneath the kitchen, but a full basement could be had if so desired. The rooms are nine feet in height. The bungalow is planned for hardwood floors throughout, and the finish is Washington fir, piazza floors and ceilings to be No. 1 clear Washington fir. The exterior can be sided or shingled. Size of the bungalow twenty-six feet wide and thirty-six feet deep. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $1,600.

Upon receipt of $1 the publisher of this paper will supply a copy of Saxton's book of plans, entitled "American Dwellings." The book contains 240 new and up to date designs of cottages, bungalows and residences, costing from $1,000 to $5,000.

number allowed for each subscription and should not be confused with the Double Vote Offer for subscriptions for $2.00 or more, which closes Sept. 16th.

Heretofore all the special offers made during the contest have been in favor of the candidate. Beginning today, however, new subscribers to the Herald or to the Register will receive either paper from now until January 1, 1913, for the price of one year's subscription. That is for the regular price of one year's subscription they will receive the Ohio State Register or the Washington Daily Herald fifteen months instead of one year. This offer will be in effect from today until the end of the contest, Sept. 30th.

The race is becoming more and more exciting in both districts, but no candidate has as yet secured anything that looks like a permanent lead. The final struggle is drawing near. Amazing surprises may be sprung before the time comes for the last count.

pure food law.
The president also recommends the retention of Dr. H. H. Rusby in the government service, and rules adversely to the decision of the personnel board of the department, which advised that besides Dr. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, Dr. L. P.
Kobler, chief of the drug laboratory of the bureau, and Dr. W. D. Bigelow be "allowed to resign."
President Taft intimates that much more radical action may be expected when he takes up the "very much broader question involved in the investigation of the bureau of chemistry by a congressional committee." He asserts that he made up his mind in the case of Dr. Wiley weeks ago, but withheld the announcement pending the result of the investigation in congress.

BANKER CHARGED WITH DEFRAUDING

Special to Herald.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 16.—John Worthington, president of the American Bank, has been arrested here for the alleged defrauding of the Night and Day Bank, of Kansas City, out of $2500.

HORSE RUNS AWAY

AN EXCITING TIME.

An exciting time occurred on the Snow Hill pike Thursday, when a horse County Surveyor Tom Grove had driven out to where the new bridge is being constructed, became frightened at an automobile, and plunged up the road toward the bridge, where the abutments were being constructed across the road, and the chasm was bridged by two heavy plank.

Mr. Grove and the other workmen did not know the animal was coming until it was almost upon them, part of them being down beneath the gang plank. The frightened animal did not hesitate for an instant when it reached the gang plank—in fact it was running so fast it couldn't, so it sprang upon the plank and reached the other side, where George Beverly was in the act of wheeling a load of cement over the plank. Beverly saw that escape was impossible so he dropped the load overboard and seized the horse's head, both horse and man falling down in the bridge together.

After the horse had been quieted down and led out of the bridge over another gang plank, an inventory was made to ascertain the extent of the damages, but nothing of consequence was broken. The buggy had dropped down as far as the gang plank would allow, and was wedged in the open space where the abutment was being built.

Nothing is ever "Lost" in Washington until after an advertisement in the classified column fails to restore the article to the owner. And it rarely fails.
People who allow property to remain vacant, things to be lost, or articles for which they have no use to remain on their hands are standing in their own light. A few words in the classified column will convince the most skeptical that this means of communication with the people is a "hummer." It brings results.

Repair of 1500 Cars Still Very Doubtful

Bids for the repair of D. T. & L. rolling stock will probably not be acted upon for some time to come, according to reports given out from headquarters.
Since the submission of the bid for the repair of 1,500 cars for the D. T. & L., the court has ordered that road sold at auction on October 5. Before the road can be operated successfully the rolling stock must be placed in repair. It is probable that any parties acquiring the road will consider the bid of the Urbana concern, or that a new bid will be placed with the purchasers by the company.
Enough work is in prospect to keep the shops working for a long period. Many of the old employees will return to Springfield as soon as they are assured of steady employment.

After the Burglar

It was night. Deep, dark night, all over Reno, including the home of Tom Ramsey. The darkness in the rooms of the Ramsey home was so dense it could have been discovered by a barkeeper's convention. Tom Ramsey discovered it as soon as he got home, but he went to bed just the same, and, enjoying the possession of a clear conscience, he went to sleep without loss of time or anything else. Tom didn't sleep long, however, notwithstanding the clearness of his conscience, and when he awoke it was with the well-defined thought that there was something unusual doing in the house.

Cautiously and with stealth he arose and, securing his trusty automatic from the refrigerator, and wrapping his clinging kimono about his shapely form, he sallied forth from the bedroom into the darkness, now freighted with lurking, mysterious danger, into the rooms beyond. First, he awakened his son in low, tense tones, bade him arise without noise, and arm himself, because there was an anarchist in the basement preparing to blow the house up, or something like that, and, anyway, it was necessary to get a move on.

Mr. Ramsey, Jr., climbed promptly out of bed, and arming himself with a miner's candlestick, followed his war-like father forth to the fray.

There was a roomer upstairs, and he, too, was served with a notice to come forth and do battle in defense of the house of Ramsey, and hastily drawing his trousers from the place between the mattresses, where he kept them to keep the creases from going away while he slept, he was soon a member of the now fully assembled army.

"Hist!" came from Ramsey, in low, vibrating tones which made the hair on the back of the roomer's neck turn its ends upward and his toes curl in eagerness to be moving (away from the scene of the threatened carnage), and in his heart he considered the question whether or not it would not be best to desert, then and there, and so avoid taking the life of the man lurking somewhere in the gloom, all unknown, waiting for an awful death.

The son of Ramsey and the roomer followed the lead of the grizzled veteran, guided by the soft, almost inaudible froufrou of his silk kimono. From room to room the slouches moved as silently as the shadows they would have cast if there had been any light, and poked around the corner of every door-jamb in advance of the party was the trusty automatic and the deadly candlestick, and ever and anon came the threatening chatter of the teeth of the roomer, who longed for the fray and gory glory which was sure to follow the onset.

There was nothing doing in the anarchist or dynamiter line above stairs, and then the party silently deployed on to the floor below, where it was not kept long waiting.

Suddenly, and with appalling noise from a far corner of the room came the sound of the enemy. There was a spitting-thudding sound, followed by the crash of a heavy weight striking something with great force, followed in turn by a slighter sound from various parts of the room, and the dauntless three were just on the point of opening fire in an attempt to sell their lives as dearly as possible, when the roomer and the younger Ramsey were startled and somewhat relieved to hear the voice of the older Ramsey reverberating in clarion tones: "Oh, fudge, it's only a cat."

The Key to the Bastille. The bastille was the prison in which French kings confined political prisoners. Thousands of innocent persons were sent to this prison to avenge personal grievances of attaches of the kings, who issued "lettres de cachet" to their ministers and officers. The cause of the arrest was nowhere recorded, and victims thus imprisoned might remain confined in the dungeons for a lifetime. In 1789 the people of Paris destroyed the bastille after liberating all the prisoners. The key was presented by Lafayette to Washington, and it now hangs in the main hall of the later mansion at Mount Vernon.

Man's Rough Path. Times are not always hard, but a man always needs money, for he is compelled to buy his salvation of a preacher, his health of a doctor and his rights of a lawyer.

Rice Ice Cream

Boil for five minutes two cupsful of cream, four tablespoonfuls of sugar, the rind of one lemon, three bay leaves and one inch of cinnamon stick. Put three ounces of ground rice in a basin and mix it into a smooth paste with cool milk; add the boiled cream and simmer fifteen minutes. Pass through sieve; when cold, add one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, and then freeze. During the freezing add one cupful of whipped and sweetened cream. Serve in dainty cups, with ground almonds sprinkled on top.

Make two pints of plain custard. When cool add one cupful each of cream and orange marmalade, juice of a lemon and a tablespoonful of apple jelly. Freeze. Serve in cones decorated with chopped nuts.

Marble Salad

With a vegetable cutter cut enough balls from raw potatoes to make two cupsful. Boil in salted water till done, but not broken. Peel and boil in salted water till slightly tender two cupsful of white button onions. Boil half a dozen tender beets in salted water and, when cold, cut balls from them with the vegetable cutter. Chill all these separately. At serving time cover a platter with crisp lettuce. Marinate the potato balls with French dressing, roll each one in parsley and celery leaves minced fine together, and heap in the center of the platter. Arrange the little white onions next and the beets around the outside against the green bordering of lettuce. Over the onions and beets pour French dressing, a tablespoonful at a time, being careful not to disturb the green coated potato balls in the center.

Food for Thought

A man strolled into a fashionable church just before the service began. The sexton followed him up, and tapping him on the shoulder and pointing to a small cur that had followed him into the edifice, said: "Dogs are not admitted." "That's not my dog," replied the visitor. "But he follows you." "Well, so do you." The sexton growled, and immediately removed the dog with unnecessary violence.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers, whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs, are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. ### 2nd Grand Prize

$265 Link & Son Piano

This piano, also made by the Schaff Bros., of Chicago, Ill., and Huntington, Ind., has no equal on the market for the price. The people making this piano have been located in Chicago since the year 1863, since which time their financial rating has been unsurpassed by any of their competitors. They were the first firm to make upright pianos in Chicago after the great fire of 1872, and a steady improvement has made the quality of their product even since.

This piano was purchased from J. A. Smalley and is on exhibition at the storeroom next to the DeWees photograph gallery. The many excellent features of this instrument, combining a double veneered mahogany case, light, perfectly balanced and sympathetic action and soft mellow tone make it one that anyone who is a lover of music would be proud to own.
